FLAMES SWEEP DAYTON DISTRICT

Half Million Loss Results From Blaze; 12 Units Combat Fire

DAYTON, June 15—(UP)—An entire block of Dayton's industrial section was swept by an early morning fire that destroyed a foundry and lumber yard and damaged another foundry, with an estimated $500,000 loss, today.

Three firemen were injured while fighting the blaze from midnight until 4 a. m.

The Hoban Brass Foundry, in which the fire was thought to have started, and the Goner & Lienesch Box Co. lumber yard were destroyed. The Buckeye Iron and Brass works foundry was damaged greatly.

12 Sleepers Flee

Twelve persons asleep in a nearby rooming house fled when given warning of the fire by Patrolman Ben Hudson.

The injured firemen are Arthur Davis, 23, overcome by smoke; Cletus Hollahan, 35, struck by a fire hose, and George Conaway, 37, cut by a fire hose. They were taken to a hospital, but they were not hurt seriously.

Twelve fire companies responded to the alarm. All available policemen were summoned to keep back crowds.

A 70,000-gallon gasoline tank of the McLaren Oil Co., north of the Buckeye foundry, was protected by firemen.

The area of the fire was bounded by Wyandot, East Third and Shawnee streets.

TRIAL OF SMITH YOUTH NEARING END IN BUFFALO

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 15—(UP)—The defense in the murder trial of Thomas Edward Smith, 19-year-old confessed slayer of Mary Ellen Babcock, rested its case today.

The evidence on which the youth hopes to escape death in the electric chair through a jury verdict of insanity was completed with the testimony of Dr. William J. Daley, the Smith family physician.

Earlier, the defense offered as evidence a sketch made by the defendant of the knife with which he said he stabbed the Babcock girl to death.

District Attorney Walter C. Newcomb called psychiatrists for rebuttal testimony in an effort to refute the defense claim of insanity.

DICTATORSHIP PLANNED

French and British Leave Town in Destroyers

HENDAYE, French - Spanish Frontier, June 15—(UP)—The Basque government has declared martial law in Bilbao, Basque delegates on the frontier announced today.

HENDAYE, French - Spanish Frontier, June 15—(UP)—Nationalist authorities at Irun, near the frontier, asserted today that nationalist troops had begun to move in on Bilbao proper today along the Madrid-Bilbao railroad tracks.

They moved in slowly, systematically occupying house by house, it was said, while two other columns began an encircling movement on the north and south sides of the city.

Roads to the west of Bilbao were reported crowded with refugees and Loyalist militiamen.

Destroyers Used

French and British consular officials left Bilbao in destroyers. Basques insisted that their defense position still was good, that they held important posts in the hills outside the city, that they were able to dominate main roads and that they had a strong force south of the city.

But so confident were the nationalists of the city's fall that Gen. Francisco Franco, generalissimo, was reported preparing to proclaim a constituted nationalist government for all Spain as soon as his victory was consolidated.

It was indicated that Franco might give himself a position roughly comparable to that of Adolf Hitler of Germany, with a cabinet under him.

Strike of Builders May Delay School Opening

Work Suspended Second Day As Columbus Contractors' Dispute Continues

School officials expressed fear Tuesday that the strike of Columbus tradesmen and contractors may result in a delay in the opening of classes next fall.

The Trapp-Carroll Co., Columbus, in charge of construction of the addition to the high school and Corwin street buildings, is a member of the contractors' association that has called a lockout.

Even with the contractors busy every day, school men believe it is questionable whether the work will be completed in time for classes to open on schedule. Work has been suspended for two days, and there is no indication in Columbus that the strike will be ended soon.

The project had been moving along at a fast speed until the dispute arose.

The addition built with Public Works administration and local board of education funds will add much room for high school and Corwin street pupils.

RAIN AND WIND CAUSE DAMAGE IN COUNTY AREA

Many Trees Broken Off As Storm Strikes; Wheat May Suffer Loss

FORECAST "UNSETTLED"

More Than Two Inches Of Precipitation Reported

Continued heavy rains, accompanied by high winds, drenched Circleville and Pickaway county Monday afternoon and evening, raising the precipitation so far this month to 2.2 inches. Normal rainfall for the entire month is about three inches.

Trees were damaged throughout the county, but no serious injury to crops or buildings was reported. The rainfall in the 24 hours previous to 8 a. m. Tuesday amounted to .32 of an inch. Highest temperature recording Monday was 83 degrees. The lowest during the night was 61.

F. K. Blair, county extension agent, believes that approximately 10 percent of Pickaway county's wheat crop has been downed by the recent wind and rain storms. Heavy rains have continued to beat down the wheat damaged by high winds.

Beliefs Differ

"These rains are not doing the wheat any good," Mr. Blair said, "but it is impossible to say how much it will be damaged. Opinions vary among the farmers. Some say the rain is not good for the wheat, while others believe it is causing no damage." Considerable wheat knocked down during last week's storms has straightened.

So far this month there have been eight rainy days. Continued unsettled weather was forecast by the U. S. weather bureau.

The Citizens Telephone Co. and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. said the high wind Monday caused no serious damage to lines throughout the county.

The northeastern part of Perry township, Pickaway county, was damaged by a hailstorm, Monday afternoon, with fruit and grain being lashed, and window glass broken out of some of the homes.

Reports from Baltimore, Fairfield county, indicated severe storm damage in that district.

SUCCESSOR FOR J. R. HOTT TO BE NAMED IN WEEK

The Pickaway county Democratic executive committee will meet within the next week to consider a successor to J. R. Hott, Robtown, on the board of elections. Mr. Hott died last Friday.

The committee will vote an endorsement with actual appointment left in the hands of the secretary of state.

A board of elections member receives $25 a month.

It is believed the new member will be a rural Democrat, since Russell Imler, the other Democrat on the board, is a resident of Circleville. Republicans now serving are T. J. Burgett of Orient and Orin Dreisbach of Circleville township. The clerk is Lawrence J. Johnson.

Pennsylvania Tracks Dynamited After Steel Corporation Moves 35 Freight Cars Into Besieged Plant at Dawn Tuesday

COAL MINERS JOIN PICKET FORCES

B. & O. Freight Derailed; 35 Loads Hauled Out of Factory Despite Vigilance

NILES, June 15—(UP)—A section of track on a Pennsylvania railroad line used to run short trains to the strike-bound Republic Steel Corporation plant in Warren, O., was dynamited today.

Railroad officials, who investigated the dynamiting, said enough track was torn away by the blast to have derailed a train.

Police said they earlier had discovered that a passenger train apparently had knocked aside a large block of wood placed across the tracks at the same spot where they later discovered the dynamiting.

The towns of Niles and Warren, only three miles apart, are the sites of struck steel plants.

Freight Car Derailed

At Warren a Baltimore and Ohio freight train box car was derailed earlier today.

Union men on the Warren picket line claimed that they knew nothing about the box car derailling.

The Niles explosion occurred under a small bridge in Waddell park. Republic has been operating mills in both Warren and Niles, despite the strike.

In both cities, Republic has been moving food to besieged workers, principally by plane.

Pickets Ignored

Thirty-five freight cars were moved into the Warren steel plant at dawn and 35 other loaded cars were taken out of the plant despite the picket lines. The usual rail connections previously had been cut off but one siding was available for the traffic today.

Coal miners from Pennsylvania and steel workers from West Virginia joined the Warren picket lines this morning, almost doubling their strength.

The movement of freight cars out of the Warren plant of Republic was considered a triumph for the company which previously had been unable to ship its products because of picket lines.

Railroad police were understood to have guarded the outgoing train.

Governor Proposes Question Of Factories Signing C.I.O. Contract

The governor's proposal was submitted at the outset of his second joint conference with representatives of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic Steel Corp. and of the steel workers' organizing committee at the executive mansion here.

Gov. Davey said, under his proposal, the steel companies would have the right to appeal to the court for a final judicial determination of the question as provided by the labor law.

He also asked that the two parties in the conference enter into an "immediate agreement" to end the 20-day steel strike based upon a seven-point formula he offered at last Friday's conference.

RAIN AND WIND CAUSE DAMAGE IN COUNTY AREA

Many Trees Broken Off As Storm Strikes; Wheat May Suffer Loss

FORECAST "UNSETTLED"

More Than Two Inches Of Precipitation Reported

Continued heavy rains, accompanied by high winds, drenched Circleville and Pickaway county Monday afternoon and evening, raising the precipitation so far this month to 2.2 inches. Normal rainfall for the entire month is about three inches.

Trees were damaged throughout the county, but no serious injury to crops or buildings was reported. The rainfall in the 24 hours previous to 8 a. m. Tuesday amounted to .32 of an inch. Highest temperature recording Monday was 83 degrees. The lowest during the night was 61.

F. K. Blair, county extension agent, believes that approximately 10 percent of Pickaway county's wheat crop has been downed by the recent wind and rain storms. Heavy rains have continued to beat down the wheat damaged by high winds.

Beliefs Differ

"These rains are not doing the wheat any good," Mr. Blair said, "but it is impossible to say how much it will be damaged. Opinions vary among the farmers. Some say the rain is not good for the wheat, while others believe it is causing no damage." Considerable wheat knocked down during last week's storms has straightened.

So far this month there have been eight rainy days. Continued unsettled weather was forecast by the U. S. weather bureau.

The Citizens Telephone Co. and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. said the high wind Monday caused no serious damage to lines throughout the county.

The northeastern part of Perry township, Pickaway county, was damaged by a hailstorm, Monday afternoon, with fruit and grain being lashed, and window glass broken out of some of the homes. Reports from Baltimore, Fairfield county, indicated severe storm damage in that district.

SUCCESSOR FOR J. R. HOTT TO BE NAMED IN WEEK

The Pickaway county Democratic executive committee will meet within the next week to consider a successor to J. R. Hott, Robtown, on the board of elections. Mr. Hott died last Friday. His funeral was Monday.

The committee will vote an endorsement with actual appointment left in the hands of the secretary of state.

A board of elections member receives $25 a month.

It is believed the new member will be a rural Democrat, since Russell Imler, the other Democrat on the board, is a resident of Circleville. Republicans now serving are T. J. Burgett of Orient and Orin Dreisbach of Circleville township. The clerk is Lawrence J. Johnson.

SPEAKER'S WIDOW DIES

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 15—(UP)—Mrs. Champ Clark, 82, widow of the onetime speaker of the house of representatives and mother of U. S. Sen. Bennett C. Clark of Missouri, died today at the home of her daughter Mrs. James M. Thonison.

REPUBLIC PLANT'S SHIPPING BLOCKED

Pennsylvania Tracks Dynamited After Steel Corporation Moves 35 Freight Cars Into Besieged Plant at Dawn Tuesday

COAL MINERS JOIN PICKET FORCES

B. & O. Freight Derailed; 35 Loads Hauled Out of Factory Despite Vigilance

NILES, June 15—(UP)—A section of track on a Pennsylvania railroad line used to run short trains to the strike-bound Republic Steel Corporation plant in Warren, O., was dynamited today.

Railroad officials, who investigated the dynamiting, said enough track was torn away by the blast to have derailed a train.

Police said they earlier had discovered that a passenger train apparently had knocked aside a large block of wood placed across the tracks at the same spot where they later discovered the dynamiting.

The towns of Niles and Warren, only three miles apart, are the sites of struck steel plants.

Freight Car Derailed

At Warren a Baltimore and Ohio freight train box car was derailed earlier today.

Union men on the Warren picket line claimed that they knew nothing about the box car derailling.

The Niles explosion occurred under a small bridge in Waddell park. Republic has been operating mills in both Warren and Niles, despite the strike.

In both cities, Republic has been moving food to besieged workers, principally by plane.

Pickets Ignored

Thirty-five freight cars were moved into the Warren steel plant at dawn and 35 other loaded cars were taken out of the plant despite the picket lines. The usual rail connections previously had been cut off but one siding was available for the traffic today.

Coal miners from Pennsylvania and steel workers from West Virginia joined the Warren picket lines this morning, almost doubling their strength.

The movement of freight cars out of the Warren plant of Republic was considered a triumph for the company which previously had been unable to ship its products because of picket lines.

Railroad police were understood to have guarded the outgoing train.

Strike Situation At A Glance

BY UNITED PRESS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Mayor Daniel Shields promised to place 3,000 American Legion members under arms if necessary to "protect Johnstown homes and property" and prevent resumption of rioting near the picketed gates of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation plant.

COLUMBUS.—Gov. Martin L. Davey advanced a new proposal for settlement of the steel strike in a second conference between officials of large independent steel companies and leaders of the steel workers organizing committee.

Conference Arranged

MONROE, Mich.—Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs arranged to confer with C.I.O. Representatives to permit "peaceful picketing" at the Newton Steel Company plant. Knaggs said 1,000 armed men were ready to repel any "outside invasion" and would not tolerate any effort to halt production at the plant, which was reopened with the aid of deputized citizens last week.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Ten thousand miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were idle as the United Mine Workers union called strikes against 19 "captive" mines owned and operated by steel companies. (Continued on Page Ten.)

DAVEY'S CONFAB BEGINS TUESDAY

Governor Proposes Question Of Factories Signing C.I.O. Contract

COLUMBUS, June 15—(UP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey today proposed that the question of whether the steel companies shall sign a contract with the Committee for Industrial Organization union be submitted to the national labor relations board.

The governor's proposal was submitted at the outset of his second joint conference with representatives of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic Steel Corp. and of the steel workers' organizing committee at the executive mansion here.

Gov. Davey said, under his proposal, the steel companies would have the right to appeal to the court for a final judicial determination of the question as provided by the labor law.

He also asked that the two parties in the conference enter into an "immediate agreement" to end the 20-day steel strike based upon a seven-point formula he offered at last Friday's conference.

LIST OF EVADERS OF TAX MAY BE HELD AS SECRET

WASHINGTON, June 15—(UP)—Publication of names of tax evaders may be restricted in connection with the congressional inquiry asked by President Roosevelt, it developed today.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the house ways and means committee, expected to be chairman of the joint house and senate inquiry said that the statement by Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., which will start off the inquiry will be examined by the joint committee before public hearings start.

"I would think we would see it before he submits it at an open hearing," said Doughton.

It previously had been reported from treasury sources that Morgenthau would submit to the committee at an open session tomorrow or Thursday the names of scores of alleged tax evaders.

BIDS TO BE ASKED FOR RESTROOMS IN COURTHOUSE

CITY OFFICIALS, COMMISSIONERS CONFER MONDAY

Cost Of Improvement To Be Divided Equally By Two Subdivisions

GLAZED BRICK ADVISED

Agreement To Be Offered To Councilmen

Bids will be asked soon for installing public restrooms in the front basement of the courthouse. Councilmen met with the county commissioners Monday afternoon.

The groups agreed on all details in connection with the improvement. The county and city will divide the expense of the improvement, and the commissioners will maintain the restrooms.

The commissioners asked that the city exclude the restrooms from sewage treatment costs in connection with the disposal plant. Councilmen told them the costs, if assessed, would be very low.

Carl C. Leist, solicitor, and George Gerhardt, prosecutor, were instructed to draw an agreement between the city and county. It will be presented in council Wednesday night for consideration.

Entrances to the restrooms will be on each side of the front steps to the courthouse. Glazed brick will be used in the construction.

'HAYMOW' PARTY GOES TO JURORS IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—(UP)—Evidence of a Hollywood "haymow" party was submitted today to the complaints committee of the county grand jury.

The accuser was Patricia Douglas, 20, blonde movie extra girl, who said she was pined with liquor, slugged unconscious and assaulted criminally.

She has identified the picture of a Chicago film salesman as that of the man who attacked her in a parked automobile outside a ranch house while the party was in progress.

It was a party given by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio for its visiting salesmen. The ranch was decorated to resemble a frontier day dance hall, according to the complaints, and 125 pretty extra girls were brought in as partners for the male guests. Miss Douglas said that after the whisky and champagne had been flowing a while, the "haymow" became the center of attraction to the amorous salesmen. She said she refused to accompany her partner there, and although she never drank liquor before, she had agreed to take a drink to placate him.

The drink made her ill, she said. She went outside to revive herself and was beaten unconscious, dragged to the automobile, and there assaulted.

PARKER AND FAYE

The Wednesday and Friday coast-to-coast radio programs will change stars for the summer weeks beginning June 30 and July 2 respectively. On the first date Frank Parker becomes the featured singer with Andre Kostelanetz's Orchestra, while the Friday show which presents the dance tempos of Hal Kemp will move to Hollywood to be joined by Alice Faye, the popular star of Twentieth Century-Fox musicals.

Neither of the new singing stars needs an introduction. Wherever radio sets are owned, Frank Parker's fine tenor voice has inspired much tuning in. The handsome young tenor has been featured on the stage and screen as well, but his widest popularity has been achieved in the field of radio.

Alice Faye brings an artistry in popular singing that will match the famous Kemp Tempo to perfection. Miss Faye's ability to entertain huge audiences was recognized when she was given the leading part in Hollywood's production of George White's Scandals.

SHERRILL NAMED AS CINCINNATI'S MANAGER AGAIN

CINCINNATI, June 15—(UP)—Col. C. D. Sherrill will be the next city manager of Cincinnati, returning to a post he occupied from 1926 to 1930.

The four Republican and four charter councilmen voted for him late yesterday, breaking a deadlock which had stopped efforts to select a city manager since C. A. Dykstra left office May 1 to become president of the University of Wisconsin.

Col. Sherrill informally accepted the nomination in a telephone conversation from the Washington office of the American Retail Federation, of which he is director, when he said he would "be delighted to be city manager of Cincinnati."

Col. Sherrill resigned as city manager in 1930 to become vice president of the Kroger Baking & Grocery Co.

In April, 1935, he left here to assume the directorship of the retail federation in Washington.

The city managership pays $25,000 a year.

DAVEY SUMMONS SOLONS TO VOTE NEW MONEY BILL

COLUMBUS, June 15—(UP)—The bitter appropriations bill fight was thrown open again today with a call by Gov. Martin L. Davey to the legislature to convene June 21 to provide funds for state operation after July 1.

The proclamation recalling the 92nd general assembly into extraordinary session one week hence was issued by the governor late yesterday following a conference with State Democratic Chairman Frank Poulson and aides.

Specifically, it called upon the legislature "to make appropriations for the operation of the state government for the current biennium and for such purposes as I may, by special message, bring before the special session."

As the partial appropriations bill expires June 30, the legislature will have only nine days in which to vote operating funds.

DRIVER PAYS DAMAGES TO CARS; IS RELEASED

R. M. Chambers, 43, of Columbus Route 1, arrested by police after his car collided with two parked autos and a fire plug at Court and Franklin streets early Monday, was released after paying for the damage done to the cars and paying costs on a charge of reckless driving. A $10 fine imposed by Mayor W. J. Graham was suspended.

Chambers' car hit the autos of Morris Boggs, Boggs hotel, and J. R. Scudder, Dunton block. Chambers told officers he fell asleep.

SHERRILL NAMED AS CINCINNATI'S MANAGER AGAIN

CINCINNATI, June 15—(UP)—Col. C. D. Sherrill will be the next city manager of Cincinnati, returning to a post he occupied from 1926 to 1930.

The four Republican and four charter councilmen voted for him late yesterday, breaking a deadlock which had stopped efforts to select a city manager since C. A. Dykstra left office May 1 to become president of the University of Wisconsin.

Col. Sherrill informally accepted the nomination in a telephone conversation from the Washington office of the American Retail Federation, of which he is director, when he said he would "be delighted to be city manager of Cincinnati."

Col. Sherrill resigned as city manager in 1930 to become vice president of the Kroger Baking & Grocery Co.

In April, 1935, he left here to assume the directorship of the retail federation in Washington.

The city managership pays $25,000 a year.

DAVEY SUMMONS SOLONS TO VOTE NEW MONEY BILL

COLUMBUS, June 15—(UP)—The bitter appropriations bill fight was thrown open again today with a call by Gov. Martin L. Davey to the legislature to convene June 21 to provide funds for state operation after July 1.

The proclamation recalling the 92nd general assembly into extraordinary session one week hence was issued by the governor late yesterday following a conference with State Democratic Chairman Frank Poulson and aides.

Specifically, it called upon the legislature "to make appropriations for the operation of the state government for the current biennium and for such purposes as I may, by special message, bring before the special session."

As the partial appropriations bill expires June 30, the legislature will have only nine days in which to vote operating funds.

MEDICAL SALVO FIRED ON MASS AMERICAN MIND

Dr. Albert Lorenz, Vienna, Critical of Surgery For Quick Results

SPENDS TIME IN U. S.

Nation Is Given Name Of Land
Of Hysteria

VIENNA, June 15 (UP) — Bitter criticism of American mentality and of American medical practices, resulting from this mentality, were voiced by Dr. Albert Lorenz, son of the famous "bloodless surgeon," Adolf Lorenz, in an article on "American and European Orthopedics," published in the "Vienna Clinical Weekly."

Dr. Lorenz, an orthopedist like his father, has spent six months in the United States every year since 1923.

Being an apostle of bloodless surgery, he naturally is disappointed by the readiness with which American doctors undertake operations in order to achieve "quick results."

According to Dr. Lorenz, "the entire life in America is permeated by hysteria and mass suggestion. Hysteria, especially in women, accompanies every orthopedic ailment.... It is no overstatement to say that, among the better classes in America, one hardly ever meets a woman patient with normal psychic reactions. A doctor, guided merely by reason and logic, runs up against walls of glass. Hence the surprising popularity of psychoanalysis on the other side of the ocean."

Calls U. S. Land of Hysteria

"American orthopedic therapeutics are," Dr. Lorenz wrote, "closely connected with general American mentality to which both doctor and patient are subjected in equal measure. It is in conformity with the feminism of the country, ruled directly or indirectly by women for women, that America is the land of mass hysteria and mass suggestion. Mass suggestion reaches its pseudo-scientific climax in the strange phenomenon of American advertising, taught as a pseudo-science at the universities, which means the acme of diabolic bamboozling. This advertising also affects medical practice."

As a gregarious animal, the American, according to Dr. Lorenz, "half subconsciously wishes to standardize and schematize all and everything, to reduce everything to a brief, comprehensive formula. The brilliant formulation of such slogans deceives him on the fact that seldom in life, and hardly ever in natural sciences, the manifold and complicated conditions can be compressed into a brief, glittering slogan. But, because the slogan means more to him than truth, he consciously cripples the latter in favor of the former. An American considers it a personal defeat of his energy, prized above everything by him, if one of his enterprises proceeds slowly. 'We want quick results' is one of the proudest American slogans.... In the domain of sciences this slogan is a complete absurdity."

Compares Two Types

In his own special branch Dr. Lorenz found that "the American orthopedist with respect to the surgeon suffers from a sort of subconscious inferiority complex. The U. S. POSTOFFICE refusal to accept for delivery packages containing food for workers in strike-bound Republic Steel Corp. plants drew a threat from John S. Brookes, Jr., above, member of the corporation's executive committee, to take "such legal steps as may be available" unless the department instruct Ohio postmasters to accept and deliver food packages Brookes sent a letter to Postmaster General Farley renewing his demands.

American orthopedist always takes good care to appear as surgeon-like as possible, because he fears to be thrown into the same category with his ancestors, the bandagists, the teachers of gymnastics and the corn operators. This may be a subconscious reason for their conspicuous readiness to operate upon their patients. Doctor and patient alike are eager for the newest operations. Displaying rich casuistry, the doctor frequently seeks to forestall a colleague, while the patient is afraid of appearing un-modern and un-American. If he does not willingly submit to the new operation."

On the other hand, Dr. Lorenz readily admits that, in contrast to widespread European opinion, American science in all branches is long past the spoon age, and he highly praises American medical literature, although he does not approve of many American medical practices.

AUSTRIA FEARS NAZI 'INCIDENT' ALONG DANUBE

Germany To Have 1,200
Canoes in Gigantic
Paddling Event

TO BEGIN AT BORDER

Route Chosen Goes Through
Beautiful Danube

VIENNA, June 15 (UP) — An imposing fleet of 2,000 canoes is scheduled to paddle down the Danube in July under the escort of Austria's entire river police, mobilized to prevent excesses of enthusiasm by the local population.

The trip, organized by the International Kayak Union, will start at the German border town of Passau on July 17, to take the participants in slow stages to Vienna where they are expected to arrive on July 23, when a banquet in their honor will be given by municipal authorities.

As the boats will retrace the route the Nibelungs went to their doom, some 1,200 years ago, when Queen Kriemhild, grim Hagen and all the gallant Rhenish knights found a bloody end at King Etzel's (Attila's) court, some 50 miles below Vienna, the event is, somewhat ominously, qualified as "Nibelung Trip."

While even the most superstitious do not anticipate a similar ghastly end, the sporting event could lead to serious trouble.

Germany to Lead

About 1,200 canoes from Germany are expected to participate, compared to 300 Austrians, 200 Czechs, 100 Swiss, about 40 from Great Britain and a similar number from France.

The route passes through the Wachau, the most beautiful part of the Danube, with its ancient castles, such as Duerstein, where England's Richard Coeur-de-Lion, according to legend, was discovered by faithful Blondel in Duke Leopold VI's dungeon, and Poehlern, the home of loyal Count Ruediger, who on behalf of his lord Etzel, escorted Siegfried's widow to the Hun camp, where he lost his life with the Nibelungs.

In the Wachau region the Nazi element is probably stronger than in any other part of Austria.

Nazi Demonstrations Recalled

After the Nazi demonstration against the Schuschnigg cabinet when the Olympic flame was carried through Vienna last summer, after demonstrations attending the good-will visit of foreign minister Constantin von Neurath to the Austrian government early this year, and especially in view of the mass demonstration of Sunday, May 23, in the Vienna Stadium where, it is estimated, about 30,000 Austrian Nazis vociferously expressed their wish of seeing Austria incorporated into the Reich, the government, naturally, looks forward with greatest concern to the visit of so many German sportsmen to a district where the Schuschnigg cabinet has comparatively few supporters.

Austrian authorities, therefore, are preparing most elaborate precautions, including mobilization of police and gendarmes, the concentration of the river police, to maintain public order. It is, however, doubted that they will be capable of preventing unpleasant happenings at the passage of the up-to-date Nibelungs.

Danube Is "International"

In this action, the government is handicapped by the fact that, under international conventions, the Danube in Austrian territory still is "international waters," while Germany, last year, proclaimed the abolition of all restrictions to sovereignty on German rivers.

As far as the displaying of the German colors by the German participants is concerned, a compromise has been reached under which the German boats will be allowed to show the Swastika flag in the bow, provided the Austrian colors are hoisted astern.

Inns and hotels where the German guests will stay, under existing regulations, likewise are permitted to display the German flag, but only alongside with an Austrian flag of at least the same size. Even if the event should result in no serious incident, this "Nibelung Trip" under police control will be a milestone in the history of international sports.

SECURITY BOARD CLARIFIES LAW FOR AGE GROUP

WASHINGTON (UP) — Because many wage earners 65 years of age and over who are applying for social security account numbers believe that they are now eligible for Federal old-age benefits, the Social Security Board has issued instructions to all field representatives to correct this impression immediately.

Field officials were instructed to explain that the issuance of social security account numbers a few weeks ago was extended to include workers beyond 65 in order to aid states in setting up records for unemployment compensation programs. State unemployment compensation laws cover employees of all ages, whereas the wages received by workers for employment after they reach 65 are not counted toward old-age benefits under the Federal program.

The use of the account number cards, it was explained, will prove advantageous not only to states, but also to employees and employers, who will need only one number for their respective purposes under both the Federal old-age benefits plan and state unemployment compensation laws.

Therefore, the Social Security

board recently announced that social security accounts would be issued to workers who are 65 years of age or over. It was emphasized, however, that filing applications by such persons is purely voluntary so far as the Social Security Act is concerned.

Nazi Demonstrations Recalled

After the Nazi demonstration against the Schuschnigg cabinet when the Olympic flame was carried through Vienna last summer, after demonstrations attending the good-will visit of foreign minister Constantin von Neurath to the Austrian government early this year, and especially in view of the mass demonstration of Sunday, May 23, in the Vienna Stadium where, it is estimated, about 30,000 Austrian Nazis vociferously expressed their wish of seeing Austria incorporated into the Reich, the government, naturally, looks forward with greatest concern to the visit of so many German sportsmen to a district where the Schuschnigg cabinet has comparatively few supporters.

Austrian authorities, therefore, are preparing most elaborate precautions, including mobilization of police and gendarmes, the concentration of the river police, to maintain public order. It is, however, doubted that they will be capable of preventing unpleasant happenings at the passage of the up-to-date Nibelungs.

Danube Is "International"

In this action, the government is handicapped by the fact that, under international conventions, the Danube in Austrian territory is "international waters," while Germany, last year, proclaimed the abolition of all restrictions to sovereignty on German rivers.

As far as the displaying of the German colors by the German participants is concerned, a compromise has been reached under which the German boats will be allowed to show the Swastika flag in the bow, provided the Austrian colors are hoisted astern.

Inns and hotels where the German guests will stay, under existing regulations, likewise are permitted to display the German flag, but only alongside with an Austrian flag of at least the same size.

Even if the event should result in no serious incident, this "Nibelung Trip" under police control will be a milestone in the history of international sports.

SECURITY BOARD CLARIFIES LAW FOR AGE GROUP

WASHINGTON (UP)—Because many wage earners 65 years of age and over who are applying for federal old-age benefits, the Social Security Board has issued instructions to all field representatives to correct this impression immediately.

Field officials were instructed to explain that the issuance of social security account numbers a few weeks ago was extended to include workers beyond 65 in order to aid states in setting up records for unemployment compensation programs. State unemployment compensation laws cover employees of all ages, whereas the wages received by workers for employment after they reach 65 are not counted toward old-age benefits under the Federal program.

The use of the account number cards, it was explained, will prove advantageous not only to states, but also to employees and employers, who will need only one number for their respective purposes under both the Federal old-age benefits plan and state unemployment compensation laws.

Therefore, the Social Security

board recently announced that social security accounts would be issued to workers who are 65 years of age or over. It was emphasized, however, that filing applications by such persons is purely voluntary so far as the Social Security Act is concerned.

Yes, and the three big advantages which belong to the gas refrigerator, alone, are not the only reasons why modern families favor them. There is the humidification feature which retards the drying out of foods, keeping them fresher much longer. There is a reserve cold unit which assures extra refrigeration in hot weather. And, of course, the cabinet is strikingly beautiful and abounds in convenience features. See for yourself now, all these and many other advantages of the 1937 Servel Electrolux — the gas refrigerator so many people are buying because they get so much more for their investment.

Forest Service Announces
That 100 Million Shrubs
Have Been Planted

TERMED AS "SUCCESS"

Cantaloupes Are Growing In What Were Dust Fields

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (UP)—More than 100,000,000 trees planted in the Great Plains shelterbelt are affording effective protection against winds, according to the Forest Service.

The shelterbelt, at which many persons scoffed, is a "complete success," Earl W. Tinker, assistant chief of the forest service, said. Tinker made a tour of the midwestern area to inspect growth of the trees.

The shelterbelt extends from Texas almost to the Canadian border. It ranges from a few hundred yards to several miles wide. In places there are several strips of "belts." From 700 to 1,000 trees were planted per acre.

CCC Enrollees Aid

The forest service has planted approximately 35,000,000 of these trees. About 30,000,000 were distributed to farmers for woodland and shelterbelt planting. Not all of the planting has been done in the Great Plains. CCC enrollees have planted other millions in many states.

Federal and state nurseries have produced an additional 150,000,000 trees for planting. The Forest Service has distributed more than 50,000,000 trees for private plantings during the past two years.

Tinker said a check of trees planted in the western shelterbelt showed 81 per cent had survived under adverse drought conditions. Their effectiveness will increase as they grow, he said.

"Many thousands of young trees planted during the 1935 season are now 6 feet high and already are bringing about a lessening of wind movement within their protective range," Tinker said.

Some 16 Feet High

"Heights up to 16 feet have been noted in some instances," he said. "I saw fields of cantaloupes and watermelons growing in what were formerly dust fields, protected by rows of newly planted trees."

Tinker said more than 1,281 miles of shelterbelt strips and 6,415 acres of farmsteads have been planted. More than 4,500 farmers participated in tree plantings.

Trees found to have made the best growth were the green ash, cottonwood, Chinese elm, red cedar, and Ponderosa pine. The forest service said farmers who had seeded their land in trees valued it at an average of $1,046 per farm.

"Experience gained thus far in shelterbelt and windbreak planting demonstrates the value of this type of work in the Great Plains region where an urgent necessity exists for an extensive tree planting program," the Forest Service said.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Residents on the eastern edge of Fort Worth believe chicken thieves have a monopoly on the poultry business. During the past month more than 70 chickens have been stolen in an area of only a few blocks.

FOLLOWING a lengthy hearing in Washington at which the senate postoffice committee heard First Assistant Postmaster General W. W. Howes, shown center, talking to Senators Bridges, left, and McKellar, denied at the hearing that the department had permitted union men to censor mails in the Ohio strike zone.

Ran across a very interesting chap Monday in the person of John Dowler, who is the owner of the farm near South Bloomfield tenanted by Dick Hedges and family. Said the prospects for crops were good and that the dozen or more acres of asparagus is doing very well; also the strawberries. Potatoes showing well. "All farm crops are doing well," he said. Mr. Dowler besides being interested in this farm, is regularly employed by the government in farm replacement work, he having laid out about one hundred average 60-acre plots to be made into real farm homes and tenanted by people who are now on non-productive lands. These farms will be under supervision of some one who knows how best to manage them for production. Said that each farm as planned, would have two horses, five cows, three brood sows, two-hundred hens and grain

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Night Must Fall" which ends tonight at the Cliftona Theatre was a London stage play and Montgomery suggested that his studio adapt it for a picture. That is an ordinary procedure, but the extraordinary phase was Montgomery's eagerness to play the leading role. The part is that of a pathological killer who commits murder with the least of reason but the most of cunning.

For a star of heroic roles to deliberately choose such a part was daring and in the light of his subsequent performance, highly commendable. Montgomery has brought to the screen something that never appeared there before. He has talented cooperation from Miss Russell and a highly capable cast of supporting players.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Night Must Fall" which ends tonight at the Cliftona Theatre was a London stage play and Montgomery suggested that his studio adapt it for a picture. That is an ordinary procedure, but the extraordinary phase was Mont-gomery's eagerness to play the leading role. The part is that of a pathological killer who commits murder with the least of reason but the most of cunning.
For a star of heroic roles to deliberately choose such a part was daring and, in the light of his subsequent performance, highly commendable. Montgomery has brought to the screen something that never appeared there before.
He has talented cooperation from Miss Russell and a highly capable cast of supporting players.

CONDITION INTOLERABLE

THOSE who have made a study of the subject declare that there are more than 7,000,000 aliens in the United States, and that no less than 500,000 are in the country illegally. It is further asserted that nearly 1,500,000 foreigners are carried on the relief rolls, at a cost that has approximated nearly $500,000,000 a year.

To complete the picture, it should be said that about 50,000 of these aliens are criminals who, aside from their misdeeds, are costing the people of this country, $50,000,000 a year in various ways. It will be recalled that Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the kidnaper and murderer of Charles Lindbergh, Jr., was among those who had entered America illegally.

These facts are so astounding that one might well ask why such conditions should be allowed to continue. While these aliens are not permitted to vote, they enjoy practically all the other privileges of native-born citizens; but in the event of war, they could not be required to bear arms in defense of the country that supports them. While we deny the franchise to these alien millions, they are, nevertheless, permitted to participate in the framing of our laws. This arises from the fact that, under the Constitution, the representation of each state in Congress is based on population, excluding Indians not taxed.

Greater New York, for example, has 22 representatives in Congress, while Chicago has 10. If representation in Congress were based on citizenship rather than population, New York and Chicago would lose several members, which would be allotted to other states. Under such an arrangement, unnaturalized aliens would no longer have a voice in legislating for the American people.

At various times in recent years proposals have been submitted in Congress for amending the Constitution to correct the evils and absurdities to which reference has been made, but no action was taken.

BILL WILL HELP FARMERS

CONGRESSMAN CHESTER THOMPSON of Illinois has introduced a bill placing an excise tax of six cents a pound on canned ham and other pork products that have been pouring into the country in increasing volume during recent months.

During the first three months of the present calendar year our imports of hams, shoulders and bacon amounted to more than 13,035,000 pounds. The bulk of this has come from Poland and Danzig. During 1936 our imports of canned beef alone amounted to about 90,000,000 pounds, the equivalent of about 700,000 cows. Of every pound of canned beef produced in the United States at the present time, approximately 12 pounds are imported.

World At A Glance

Congress virtually is on a sit-down strike against President Roosevelt.

It doesn't quit and go home. In fact, it can't. The White House has wished upon it a program that it must agree to or reject before it adjourns. It hasn't the nerve to say an outright "No."

If it were to adjourn, leaving everything hanging fire, it would create a situation even worse than turning down the whole presidential plan definitely.

Moreover, the chief executive could call it back into special session.

THERE THEY SIT!

Thus President Roosevelt, in a way, is on a sit-down strike against congress, too.

Congress sits and does nothing but talk, nullifying his wishes.

On the opposite hand, he refuses to modify his demands the least bit; therefore congress is kept sweltering in Washington's summer weather.

"F. D." sits down in the executive mansion.

Congress sits down on Capitol Hill.

It is a deadlock, as well as a two-sided sit-down.

If anything, the president has the advantage, at least insofar as the current torrid season is concerned. He takes an occasional vacation of a few days. Congress can't get away at all.

THE OBJECTORS

It is a peculiar thing that many lawmakers, who are in full sympathy with the various presidential objectives in the direction of social-economic reform, object to the routes the president seeks to take to arrive there.

There are plenty of conservatives who do not want him to get anywhere; who insist on staying right here.

However, there are lots of liberals also who contend that the White House tenant is trying to do the right thing in the wrong fashion.

Partisan lines no longer mean anything.

Some old-time Democrats are as bitterly anti-Rooseveltian as any old guard Republican. Some old-time Democrats profess to be pro-Rooseveltian because "F. D." is Democratically labeled—but every one knows that they have their fingers crossed. Some liberals (Democrats, Republicans and miscellaneous alike) are anti-Roosevelt because they do not like the presidential methods, whatever their purpose. Other liberals (similarly mixed) say, "Well, on general principles, we're with the administration."

NO MAJORITY, NO MINORITY

The upshot is that the president has not exactly got a congressional majority and yet he is not quite in a minority, either.

"F. D." has this to be said on his side:

He assesses public opinion and draws his own conclusion. Right or wrong, it is a clean-cut conclusion.

Congress draws its conclusions, and there are 531 different conclusions (46 senators and 435 representatives).

Naturally one conclusion has more cohesion than 531.

Still, maybe 531 have a better chance of being nationally average than merely one.

WHO'LL WIN? GUESS!

Summed up, it is a mutual sit-down strike.

Who wins it is a gamble. Who OUGHT to win it is a gamble after that.

F.D.R. COULDN'T BE HARD

WASHINGTON — The elevation of Harry W. Woodring to the rank of Secretary of War is an illustration of Roosevelt's greatest personal weakness. He cannot be hard-boiled with those around him.

Roosevelt did not want Woodring as Secretary of War. He did not even relish him as Assistant Secretary of War. The generals did not want him. Not even Jim Farley wanted him. But Harry Woodring is now Secretary of War.

The answer is that Harry just loved being acting-Secretary of War, and Roosevelt couldn't bear to mar his happiness. Harry has a lovely wife, and they have two lovely babies. They were wise enough to select son Jimmy Roosevelt as best man when they were married. And whenever F. D. Roosevelt came home from one of his many trips, Harry was always down at the Union Station to meet him.

In addition to all this, there wasn't anyone else clamoring to be Secretary of War. So after George Dern died, Woodring became Acting Secretary, and finally full-fledged Secretary of War.

WAR CONTRACTS SCANDAL

All of which goes to prove that the memory of mankind is short.

For it was not long before this that Harry Woodring, then a much-criticized Assistant Secretary of War, was pleading for his political life before a grand jury investigating charges of fraud in Army contracts.

Had the hand of fate predicted to Roosevelt at that time, that Harry Woodring was going to become a full-fledged member of his Cabinet, he never would have believed it. For at that time Woodring even suffered the humiliation of having his chief, Secretary Dern, order him to keep a register of every caller at his office and submit the list for inspection twice a week.

TOO FRIENDLY

The chief trouble with Woodring was too many friends from Kansas and too great an anxiety to please. Some of those friends were interested in getting Army contracts. One friend, Ralph O'Neil, represented Joe Silverman, second-hand dealer, who bought 50,000 raincoats for 25c apiece, then wanted to sell them back to the Army for $1.32, which was 65c cents cheaper than the Army could get them elsewhere.

The Army needed the raincoats, but bought them for $1.97 from somebody else.

Since his was the lowest bid, Silverman and O'Neil threatened to sue. So Woodring worked out a deal by which the raincoats were returned to the Army, and Silverman was given saddles, bridles and tent covers in exchange.

But before they could be delivered, General MacArthur stepped in and called it an "outrage and robbery of the American taxpayer."

There were other Army bids involving airplanes and trucks, all of which caused a terrific furore at the time, plus a congressional investigation. But when Roosevelt appointed Woodring Secretary of War three years later, everyone had forgotten it. There was not a line about it in any newspaper.

Sandy and Marcia had met quite by accident near the south end of the California. He is an advertising executive who has been in the business for some time. Marcia is a talented commercial artist employed by a rival firm in Los Angeles. After a week they fell in love. Then Marcia shows so much enthusiasm for her work that Sandy feels her love for him is secondary; they part in a huff and return to Los Angeles separately. Led to believe she is to be taken into the Zimmerman's firm, Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Walt Hartley has become the new partner. Although Marcia had sent Sandy a job, she becomes jealous of Walt. Marcia is being seen occasionally, largely out of spite for having gone so far as to join her friend, Ellen and his friend, Tony, at a night club. The four go to the races. Walt begins to win and urges Marcia to bet $50 for him on the last race. The horse Marcia had picked wins and would have netted Walt over $1,000 but Marcia had been reluctant to bet his money when she reached the ticket window. Marcia is incensed when Walt accuses her of having placed the bet and keeping his money. Marcia is crying and asks that he and Ellen are eloping and asks Marcia to marry him. CONDITION INTOLERABLE

THOSE who have made a study of the subject declare that there are more than 7,000,000 aliens in the United States, and that no less than 500,000 are in the country illegally. It is further asserted that nearly 1,500,000 foreigners are carried on the relief rolls, at a cost that has approximated nearly $500,000,000 a year.

To complete the picture, it should be said that about 50,000 of these aliens are criminals who, aside from their misdeeds, are costing the people of this country, $50,000,000 a year in various ways. It will be recalled that Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the kidnaper and murderer of Charles Lindbergh, Jr., was among those who had entered America illegally.

These facts are so astounding that one might well ask why such conditions should be allowed to continue. While these aliens are not permitted to vote, they enjoy practically all the other privileges of native-born citizens; but in the event of war, they could not be required to bear arms in defense of the country that supports them. While we deny the franchise to these alien millions, they are, nevertheless, permitted to participate in the framing of our laws. This arises from the fact that, under the Constitution, the representation of each state in Congress is based on population, excluding Indians not taxed.

Greater New York, for example, has 22 representatives in Congress, while Chicago has 10. If representation in Congress were based on citizenship rather than population, New York and Chicago would lose several members, which would be allotted to other states. Under such an arrangement, unnaturalized aliens would no longer have a voice in legislating for the American people.

At various times in recent years proposals have been submitted in Congress for amending the Constitution to correct the evils and absurdities to which reference has been made, but no action was taken.

BILL WILL HELP FARMERS

CONGRESSMAN CHESTER THOMPSON of Illinois has introduced a bill placing an excise tax of six cents a pound on canned ham and other pork products that have been pouring into the country in increasing volume during recent months.

During the first three months of the present calendar year our imports of hams, shoulders and bacon amounted to more than 13,035,000 pounds. The bulk of this has come from Poland and Danzig. During 1936 our imports of canned beef alone amounted to about 90,000,000 pounds, the equivalent of about 700,000 cows. Of every pound of canned beef produced in the United States at the present time, approximately 12 pounds are imported.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Congress virtually is on a sit-down strike against President Roosevelt.

It doesn't quit and go home. In fact, it can't. The White House has wished upon it a program that it must agree to or reject before it adjourns. It hasn't the nerve to say an outright "No."

If it were to adjourn, leaving everything hanging fire, it would create a situation even worse than turning down the whole presidential plan definitely.

Moreover, the chief executive could call it back into special session.

THERE THEY SIT!

Thus President Roosevelt, in a way, is on a sit-down strike against congress, too.

Congress sits and does nothing but talk, nullifying his wishes.

On the opposite hand, he refuses to modify his demands the least bit; therefore congress is kept sweltering in Washington's summer weather.

"F. D." sits down in the executive mansion.

Congress sits down on Capitol Hill.

It is a deadlock, as well as a two-sided sit-down.

If anything, the president has the advantage, at least insofar as the current torrid season is concerned. He takes an occasional vacation of a few days. Congress can't get away at all.

THE OBJECTORS

It is a peculiar thing that many lawmakers, who are in full sympathy with the various presidential objectives in the direction of social-economic reform, object to the routes the president seeks to take to arrive there.

There are plenty of conservatives who do not want him to get anywhere; who insist on staying right here.

However, there are lots of liberals also who contend that the White House tenant is trying to do the right thing in the wrong fashion.

Partisan lines no longer mean anything.

Some old-time Democrats are as bitterly anti-Rooseveltian as any old guard Republican. Some old-time Democrats profess to be pro-Rooseveltian because "F. D." is Democratically labeled—but everyone knows that they have their fingers crossed. Some liberals (Democrats, Republicans and miscellaneous alike) are anti-Roosevelt because they do not like the presidential methods, whatever their purpose. Other liberals (similarly mixed) say, "Well, on general principles, we're with the administration."

NO MAJORITY, NO MINORITY
The upshot is that the president has not exactly got a congressional majority and yet he is not quite in a minority, either.

"F. D." has this to be said on his side:

He assesses public opinion and draws his own conclusion. Right or wrong, it is a clean-cut conclusion.

Congress draws its conclusions, and there are 531 different conclusions (96 senators and 435 representatives).

Naturally one conclusion has more cohesion than 531. Still, maybe 531 have a better chance of being nationally average than merely one.

WHO'LL WIN? GUESS!
Summed up, it is a mutual sit-down strike.

Who wins it is a gamble. Who OUGHT to win it is a gamble after that.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

F.D.R. COULDN'T BE HARD

WASHINGTON — The elevation of Harry W. Woodring to the rank of Secretary of War is an illustration of Roosevelt's greatest personal weakness. He cannot be hard-boiled with those around him.

Roosevelt did not want Woodring as Secretary of War. He did not even relish him as Assistant Secretary of War. The generals did not want him. Not even Jim Farley wanted him. But Harry Woodring is now Secretary of War.

The answer is that Harry just loved being acting-Secretary of War, and Roosevelt couldn't bear to mar his happiness. Harry has a lovely wife, and they have two lovely babies. They were wise enough to select son Jimmy Roosevelt as best man when they were married. And whenever F. D. Roosevelt came home from one of his many trips, Harry was always down at the Union Station to meet him.

In addition to all this, there wasn't anyone else clamoring to be Secretary of War. So after George Dern died, Woodring became Acting Secretary, and finally full-fledged Secretary of War.

WAR CONTRACTS SCANDAL

All of which goes to prove that the morality of mankind is short.

For it was not long before this that Harry Woodring, then a much-criticized Assistant Secretary of War, was pleading for his political life before a grand jury investigating charges of fraud in Army contracts.

Had the hand of fate predicted to Roosevelt at that time, that Harry Woodring was going to become a full-fledged member of his Cabinet, he never would have believed it. For at that time Woodring even suffered the humiliation of having his chief, Secretary Dern, order him to keep a register of every caller at his office and submit the list for inspection twice a week.

TOO FRIENDLY

The chief trouble with Woodring was too many friends from Kansas and too great an anxiety to please. Some of those friends were interested in getting Army contracts. One friend, Ralph O'Neil, represented Joe Silverman, second-hand dealer, who bought 50,000 raincoats for 25c apiece, then wanted to sell them back to the Army for $1.32, which was 65c cents cheaper than the Army could get them elsewhere.

The Army needed the raincoats, but bought them for $1.97 from somebody else. Since his was the lowest bid, Silverman and O'Neil threatened to sue. So Woodring worked out a deal by which the raincoats were returned to the Army, and Silverman was given saddles, bridles and tent covers in exchange.

But before they could be delivered, General MacArthur stepped in and called it an "outrage and robbery of the American taxpayer."

There were other Army bids involving airplanes and trucks, all of which caused a terrific furore at the time, plus a congressional investigation. But when Roosevelt appointed Woodring Secretary of War three years later, everyone had forgotten it. There was not a line about it in any newspaper.

Love is for Tomorrow

READ THIS FIRST:

Sandy and Marcia had met quite by accident near the home of the girl's grandmother in Los Angeles. Marcia, who is an advertising executive who has just established her own firm and she is a talented commercial artist employed by a rival firm in Los Angeles. After a week they fall in love. When Marcia shows so much enthusiasm for her work that Sandy feels her love for him is secondary, they part in a huff and return to Los Angeles separately. Led to believe she is to be taken into the arms of a man, Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Marcia Hartley has become the new partner. Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Marcia Hartley has become the new partner. Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Marcia Hartley has become the new partner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 21

ABE SPLUTTERED in indignation when Marcia had taken a thousand dollars from him and the girl appreciated the fact that he turned to her almost immediately, saying, "Good Lord, Marcia, this isn't true, is it?"

Marcia shook her head blindly and tried to explain the circumstances surrounding the unfortunate affair.

"But she didn't have either the money or the tickets, Abe. And people just don't go around losing that much cash. Do you honestly think she'd be apt to lose that much money?"

Walt insisted so much that Abe was in a quandary. Always vitally concerned where money entered the picture, he was inclined to side with his partner. Suddenly his agile mind seized a new solution.

"Marcia, with that kind of recommendation you can't expect to get far in this city. Now, why don't you make up your mind and you stay here. We might manage another raise in a month or two," he suggested tentatively, watching Marcia's reactions closely. With characteristic self-interest, he hated to lose anyone with Marcia's capabilities. If he could use this experience to force her to stay, he felt it was strategy worth trying.

"I can't," Marcia said, her eyes clouded with worry. "She'd never dreamed Walt would be so despicable as to mention that day at the races, particularly since he must realize in his own heart that the whole thing was an accident."

"I was planning to leave anyway, Abe. I told you that. Now I couldn't stand working under this cloud of personal blackmail, any more than I could be happy working at Acme where I'd found out about your new high pressure methods. I used to be so happy working with you, but I just can't go on!" She was too proud to urge him not to use his influence against her in her future attempts to find work; in fact she could scarcely believe her old friend would stoop so low. But when Abe saw her slipping out of his grasp, he became unreasonably angry.

"Well quit, then. I'm sick of this crazy A-B-Z business and all your fancy talk. You'll get burned plenty more before you're through, Marcia."

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Margaret Diltz, who has been a patient in Berger hospital, was returned to her home on E. Mill street.

Foster Bales, student at Princeton, arrived home for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bales before leaving for Rye, N. Y., where he will be employed at a boys' camp during the summer.

Rev. David McDonald, former rector of St. Philip's Episcopal church, and for the last nine years rector at St. John's church, Lancaster, has resigned to return to his home in Boston.

10 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Elizabeth Hill, 53, of York street, died in University hospital, Columbus, following a two years' illness.

Miss Clara K. Carey, former court stenographer of this county, now secretary to the state supreme court, will spend the summer traveling Europe. She will sail from Canada, June 24.

Miss F. Marguerite Barnhill, 715 N. Court street, received her bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan university.

25 YEARS AGO

Harley Hoffman, a graduate of Everts high school, left for Pittsburgh, where he will enter Carnegie Technical school.

Supt. W. E. Sealock left on a business trip to Denver, Colo., where he will spend a few days before entering the University of Wisconsin to take a summer course in American history.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, of Derby, fell down a flight of stairs suffering dislocation of three toes.

Bad Luck Doubled
CLEVELAND (UP) — Prosecutor Frank T. Culhnan's automobile stalled in the middle of Public square during a rainstorm. As he lifted the hood to make emergency

I'd like to bet a cookie. That reminds me, it's lunch time." Marcia almost laughed aloud, even in the midst of her disappointment, at the unexpected turn his conversation had taken. Even as he spoke, he straightened his tie, reached for his hat, and then suggestively looked at Marcia.

"You started this agency on a shoestring, Abe," Marcia said, "and now you've got enough rope to hang yourself with. You'd better watch your step; people won't stand your new tactics for long."

"So, you're leaving, Marcy. Well, let's see how you'll like the business world outside. You can't stand prosperity, well, let's see how you'll weather a few hard knocks," he said as a parting thrust. "At least Walt can still eat."

With his informal dismissal, Marcia found herself no longer a member of the Acme organization. Regretfully, she wished she wasn't leaving under such unhappy conditions. She felt that if she had an opportunity to talk frankly with Abe she could have convinced him why it was no longer possible for her to continue working for him, and at least could have kept his personal friendship. For, in spite of everything, she still had a soft spot in her heart for the man who had started her out in the business world.

Marcia was genuinely sorry to see Marcia leave, even though she didn't know the reason for her departure. "Probably wouldn't care, either," Marcia thought, realizing anew that this other girl was just "working the job" for the few dollars she could get out of it. She didn't think Marcia had a conscience that would worry her in any event.

Marcia deliberately took the rest of the week without any thought of getting other work. She felt she needed some time to clear her mind of the unpleasantness of the past months. La Cresta didn't appeal to her, for she didn't like to think of Grandma's gentle disapproving of the way she had handled her romance with Sandy. She took the boat that left for Catalina island Tuesday noon, and in the quietness of this off season, she found relaxation. God's walking and resting on the tranquil island overlooking a turquoise sea—it was inspirational to a person of her artistic temperament.

It was the first of March before Marcia felt she was prepared to try her luck in landing new work, but contrary to the helpless Paula, she had definite ideas of where to apply. The blustery winds whipped her coat back and threatened to snatch her sample drawings from her arm as she went first to the most promising agency, McDowell & Black.

"Sorry, Miss Madden. We've just put on a young lady, and our accounts don't justify any more additions just now," kindly Mr. Eastman told her when she consulted him.

"Do you know any openings in the city?" Marcia asked eagerly, feeling that he would know of any outstanding opportunities.

"Well, there's—but no. No, I don't believe I do, young lady," Marcia wondered at his hesitation, but set it down as regret that he was unable to be of assistance.

It wasn't until she'd been to the third office and received similar evasive replies, that she began to be suspicious. Abe had mentioned something about the difficulty she might experience; had he been trying to threaten her? Would he dare to interfere with her efforts to get other work? A few months ago she would have felt him incapable of such meanness and downright ingratitude, but in the face of recent events she was inclined to wonder.

"I won't give him the satisfaction of going back to question him," she thought bitterly. "He probably expects that. But I'm going to Eastman; maybe he'll tell me the truth." She felt the rather elderly production manager at McDowell & Black's would tell her honestly if there were any outside influences at work against her.

Back in his office she asked him pointblank if he had any explanation for the strange way her applications were being received. When the man looked embarrassed, she said, "Don't be afraid to tell me. I think I have a pretty good idea what Abe would say if anyone asked him for a recommendation, but I'd hoped my work would stand on its own merit."

"It wasn't Abe, Marcia," he confessed at last. "We had an Ad club meeting yesterday, and Walt Hartley made some very uncompromising remarks. Even said they were glad when you had decided to leave, for they felt you were undependable in more ways than one." He said this in a hesitant manner, telling Marcia more clearly than words that Walt's inference had left no doubt in the minds of his listeners.

"I wouldn't even stoop to offer an explanation to that, but I wish I were a man and could make him eat his words," she said, the blood rushing to her cheeks. "I want you to know that I left Acme for purely personal reasons, reasons which may have left Hartley bitter enough to say unkind and untrue things about me. That's all I can say. You believe me?" she said earnestly, looking at Eastman.

"I guess I felt in my heart he was a cad. But you can't be too careful in employing new people, and I'm afraid his words are going to have a far-reaching influence among the men who heard him. That's why I hesitated about telling you about the only opening I knew of, because Mr. Eastman was at that meeting too. But if you're game, you might try him. Miss Madden—I'm sure he's looking for an artist with just your qualifications. Your work most certainly will please him."

Marcia thanked him briefly, not trusting her voice to much talking. Once out on the street, she decided to see Eastman and try to convince him that any man who would publicly blacken a woman's character could not be trusted too far. Then, wearily, she changed her mind, feeling it best to wait until the next day when she might have courage to flaunt her colors more defiantly.

At the next corner she paused, for a neat card in the office of Lampkin's photographic studio announced a new exhibit. Feeling the need for the inspiration which good pictures always brought her, she turned in the imposing entrance way and walked over the deep carpets to the salon where dozens of portraits and commercial subjects were placed effectively against velvet drapes. When her eyes became accustomed to the light, she noticed two people in the far corner, the girl with her hand poised delicately almost possessively, on the man's coat sleeve. Studying the face raised so eagerly in rapt attention, she recognized Paula. Almost immediately Sandy turned around.

DIET AND HEALTH

Teething Normal Process Which Upset Occurs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

TEETHING should be a normal physiological process, but all too often it is accompanied by upsets and disturbances that upset the normal routine of the baby's life.

The doctors of 30 or 40 years ago, very very often, said that the cause of fevers and fits and many other things, was teething; too often, indeed, because they did not exclude other possible causes before jumping to that conclusion. I remember seeing a puzzling little patient when I was quite young in practice. The baby had a fever for several days, and try as I might I could not find the cause of it. A consultant was called in, a doctor of the old school, and he promptly made a diagnosis of teething, whipped out his pocket knife and cut the gums over an erupting tooth so it could come out. The procedure did not do a bit of good, was painful and unnecessary, because the next day we found evidence of pus in the kidney pelvis which was the real cause of the trouble.

When the teeth begin to poke through the gums it is natural that the baby should be restless and fretful and refuse to eat. It is best not to try to force him to eat then, because you may throw him into a peevish nervous state, ending with an attack of vomiting. The baby may seem to be eating very little, but let it pass, he probably knows best; so long as the weight is all right there is no cause for alarm.

May Affect Other Membranes
The irritation of the gums may be the origin of irritation in the other mucous membranes nearby, so that swollen tonsils and a sore throat may be present. Also a running nose. This all clears up when the tooth is out and the gums get better.

"Teething rash" is a skin eruption that occurs at this time. The first tooth that comes in is usually at the sixth month. There is considerable variation about this, though, and parents shouldn't worry if their baby doesn't do exactly the thing put down in the books of instruction. It may come in as early as the third month or not until the first year.

The first teeth to appear are the central ones in front, but here again some variation is possible, and the lateral incisors may come in first. This has no bad meaning. It is not abnormal. Usually, however, the teeth appear regularly one after the other, beginning in the center.

Possibly the almost universal use of cod liver oil or viosterol in infant feeding brings the teeth in a little earlier nowadays than formerly. We know that Vitamin D, which is the active medicinal part of cod liver oil, has an effect on bone and tooth growth.

The most important of the teeth to erupt is the six-year molar, clear behind all the others—most important because this is the first permanent tooth. It is often supposed by the parents that it is a temporary tooth and neglected if it begins to decay. If you lose it, it may ruin your mouth for life.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Seasonings for Flavor

For variety, seasonings of one kind or another are used with meat, but always these should be chosen judiciously. When meat contains so much natural flavor which can be duplicated in no other food, it seems a shame to over-power this delicious flavor with too many condiments and seasonings. Sometimes, its flavor is enhanced by a subtle touch of seasoning, if used with discretion. For instance, the flavor of pork is often heightened by the addition of a wiff of garlic, but when the whiff becomes an over-whelming bouquet, the pleasant effect is destroyed. Always, regardless of the kind of seasoning, it is important that the meat flavor predominates if best results are to be obtained.

Tuna Chops

We usually think of chops as cuts of meat, but Ginger Rogers has a way of making chops out of tuna, which the screen star likes as a relief from the daily meat dish, and also from the ordinary fish dishes. Three cups tuna, three tablespoons cooking oil, six tablespoons flour, one cup hot milk, one-half teaspoon grated onion, one tablespoon lemon juice, pepper, mace, Worcestershire sauce, one egg, one tablespoon finely minced pimientos, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon minced parsley, fine dry bread crumbs. The fish is flaked very fine, and a white sauce made of the cooking oil, flour and milk. The seasonings and the fish are then added to the white sauce. The mixture is cooled and shaped into cutlets, containing a rounded tablespoon each. Each cutlet is rolled into fine dry bread crumbs, then in the egg, which has been slightly beaten and diluted with a fourth cup of water, and then in the crumbs again. A strand of spaghetti, an inch and a half long is placed in the end of each of the cutlets to simulate a bone. The patties are then fried in deep cooking oil heated so that it will brown a bit of bread in forty seconds.

The cutlets are drained on brown paper and are generally served, in the Rogers menage, on a big, brightly-colored pottery plate, with asparagus and creamed peas, and garnished with watercress.

This is worth trying sometime.

Orange Marshmallow Pudding
Mix one cup diced orange pulp with one cup quartered marshmallows. Fold into one cup of whipped cream, add a little additional sugar as you like, pile into sherbet glasses and chill thoroughly. When serving, sprinkle the top with finely crushed peppermint candy.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Seasonings for Flavor

For variety, seasonings of one kind or another are used with meat, but always these should be chosen judiciously. When meat contains so much natural flavor which can be duplicated in no other food, it seems a shame to over-power this delicious flavor with too many condiments and seasonings. Sometimes, its flavor is enhanced by a subtle touch of seasoning, if used with discretion. For instance, the flavor of pork is often heightened by the addition of a wiff of garlic, but when the whiff becomes an over-whelming bouquet, the pleasant effect is destroyed. Always, regardless of the kind of seasoning, it is important that the meat flavor predominates if best results are to be obtained.

Tuna Chops

We usually think of chops as cuts of meat, but Ginger Rogers has a way of making chops out of tuna, which the screen star likes as a relief from the daily meat dish, and also from the ordinary fish dishes. Three cups tuna, three tablespoons cooking oil, six tablespoons flour, one cup hot milk, one-half teaspoon grated onion, one tablespoon lemon juice, pepper, mace, Worcestershire sauce, one egg, one tablespoon finely minced pimientos, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon minced parsley, fine dry bread crumbs. The fish is flaked very fine, and a white sauce made of the cooking oil, flour and milk. The seasonings and the fish are then added to the white sauce. The mixture is cooled and shaped into cutlets, containing a rounded tablespoon each. Each cutlet is rolled into fine dry bread crumbs, then in the egg, which has been slightly beaten and diluted with a fourth cup of water, and then in the crumbs again. A strand of spaghetti, an inch and a half long is placed in the end of each of the cutlets to simulate a bone. The patties are then fried in deep cooking oil heated so that it will brown a bit of bread in forty seconds.

The cutlets are drained on brown paper and are generally served, in the Rogers menage, on a big, brightly-colored pottery plate, with asparagus and creamed peas, and garnished with watercress.

This is worth trying sometime.

Orange Marshmallow Pudding

Mix one cup diced orange pulp with one cup quartered marshmallows. Fold into one cup of whipped cream, add a little additional sugar as you like, pile into sherbet glasses and chill thoroughly. When serving, sprinkle the top with finely crushed peppermint candy.

Keep Shelves Filled

Housewives of England have been advised to keep at least a month's supply of canned goods in the home at all times in order to be prepared for unexpected air raids.

Braddock At Peak As Title
Bout Approaches

KENOSHA, Wis., June 15 — (UP)—Joe Louis entered the final phase of training today determined to win back his old-time prestige as a killer in the ring.

Although he has failed so far to show the deadly punch that carried him to the top of the heavyweight division in two years, he snapped into form in one of his drills over the week-end. His backers were convinced today's boxing workout would find him once more at his best.

The bomber still has four more drills in which to reach his peak. He will box again Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, probably leaving Kenosha the day of the match to weigh in at Chicago.

GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 15 — (UP)—Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock resumed boxing today with a stiff workout scheduled against his three favorite sparring partners.

With only four more days of boxing left before he risks his title against Joe Louis at Chicago June 22, Braddock appeared to be at his peak.

He planned to work out against Charley Massera, Jack McCarthy and Henry Cooper. If the champion decides he is in danger of overwork a full week from the date of the bout, he may curtail his ring work.

NATIONAL TEAMS WIN TWO GAMES FROM AMERICAN

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 15 — (UP)—The National league topped the American league in the first inter-league double header on record, Monday.

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 4 and the Philadelphia Nationals won from Washington 9 to 5 in the exhibition games played here for benefit of the tubercular hospital building fund.

A crowd of 6000, including Gov. Homer Holt, saw the games. Although outthit 6 to 5, Cincinnati players had two doubles and a triple to their credit.

Pitcher Lloyd Moore of the Reds held the Athletics well in check until the eighth when he was relieved by Lee Grissom. The Athletics made four errors.

The Phils made all their runs against Washington in two innings, getting 5 in the first and four in the eighth.

Bing Crosby's Racing Plant to Open July 3

DEL MAR, Cal., June 15. — (UP)—A $1,000,000 racing plant almost as picturesque as a studio motion picture set, will be opened here July 3 by Harry L. Crosby, known to screen and radio fans as "Bing."

The new Del Mar turf club, which Crosby heads, undoubtedly borrowed many of its decorative ideas from the screen for, in addition to Crosby, the list of officers and directors reads like a roll-call of cinema greats.

Pat O'Brien, George Raft, Wesley Ruggles, Bogart Rogers, Howard Hawks, Harry Cohn and William Le Baron are only a few of the important cinema personages listed with Crosby's as officers and directors of the track here.

The entire plant is designed in early California Mission style—even to the stables, and jockey quarters which are of adobe construction.

Color Scheme Rich
Even ornate Agua Caliente a scant 50 miles to the south can hardly compete in sheer color with Del Mar's towered-grandstand and club house, with its brilliant colored awnings, its brown walls and green tile roofs.

The setting at beautiful Santa Anita 100 miles north is equalled if not surpassed. The same type of mountains face the clubhouse, across a rolling valley of orchards, while behind the grandstand is the broad Pacific Ocean almost literally within a stone's throw.

Stable space for 500 horses is provided at the track and weeks ago all of that was severed. In fact, it is rumored that Crosby almost missed setting aside a place for his string of runners. He "forgot" to make reservations, they say, until only a few stalls were left and track officials had to remind him to do it then, or he probably would not be able to watch his own horses run on his own track during the 22-day meeting.

Stake Events on Saturdays
Crosby has announced that throughout the season there will be a daily average disbursement of $5,045 in purses and stakes. On week days there will be five races at $500; two at $600 and one at $700. On Wednesday an $800 race will be added while Friday's race will boast a $1,000 purse. The Saturday cards will feature five races at $500, one at $600 and two stake events with purses ranging from $1,000 to $5,000.

Other handicap and stake events are San Diego handicap, $1,000 added, July 3; Del Mar Inaugural, $2,500 added, July 3; Independence Day handicap, $2,000 added, July 5; Coronado handicap, $1,000 added, July 5; Motion Picture race handicap, $1,000 added, July 9; Rancho Santa Fe handicap, $1,000 added, July 10; La Jolla handicap, $1,500 added, July 10; Long Beach handicap, $1,500 added, July 17; Chula Vista handicap, $1,000 added, July 17; Oceanside Handicap, $1,000 added, July 24; Laguna Beach handicap, $1,500 added, July 24; Carlsbad handicap, $1,000 added, July 31, and the Del Mar handicap, $5,000 added July 31.

THE first American casualty in the battle for Donald J. Budge's London grass courts singles championship will come today when two members of the U. S. Davis cup team, Wayne Sabin and Frankie Parker clash in a second round match.

Budge opposes the Belgian internationalist, Jacques Van Den Eynde; Charlie Harris, West Palm Beach, Fla., plays E. E. Fennin of the Irish Davis cup squad; the Belgian Davis-cupper, Leopold De Borman, faces W. Robertson of Los Angeles; and Lawrence Hall of Los Angeles, meets F. Nakano, member of the Japanese cup team.

They followed the boats of California, Wisconsin and Syracuse which arrived yesterday. Columbia and Navy shells have been on the water several days.

With only a week remaining before the annual Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta, all crews now will begin serious workouts with two workouts a day.

ARMY '10' WINS 6 TO 4 CONTEST

Circuit Blow By Merle Davis
Provides Big Clout
Of Game

The Battery company of the 136th artillery, O.N.G., won a 6-4 softball game Monday evening from the Coca Colas. Four runs in the third and two more in the sixth innings gave the army boys the edge.

The game was played on a slippery electric company field, W. Mound street. It is possible the field will not be in condition for tonight's fray between the Athletic club and Kingston. Wednesday, the Container Corporation and Cooper Oils are booked for competition.

A home run by Merle Davis was the feature of the big third inning rally. The blow followed a hit, error and base on balls.

Doc Ferguson pitched for the winners and Bob Jones for the losers.

CUBS, WHITE SOX HAVE CHANCE TO LEAD TWO LOOPS

NEW YORK, June 15 — (UP)—The Chicago Cubs and White Sox can take undisputed lead of the major leagues today and if they do it will be the first time in 21 years both have been on the top at the same time.

In addition to winning their own games both of the New York clubs will have to lose in order for the Windy City teams to accomplish this.

Today marks the turn around in interseasonal competition, western teams of the National league entertaining the easterners, and American clubs of the west invading the ballfields of their eastern cousins. The Cubs will have to top the Boston Bees while the Giants are losing to Pittsburgh to take the National league lead, and the White Sox will have to beat the Boston Red Sox while the New York Yankees are losing to Cleveland if they pretend to American league leadership.

Rise of both clubs to within a half game of the lead has been the result of long winning streaks. The White Sox added up the longest string of the year, running off 10 victories in a row, and winning 13 of their last 15. The Cubs had an unbroken string of eight, and have triumphed in 14 of their last 17 starts.

SEVEN SCHOOLS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 15 — (UP)—The rowing fleet from seven colleges — two far western, one midwestern and four eastern — was complete today with arrival of crews from University of Washington and Cornell.

They followed the boats of California, Wisconsin and Syracuse which arrived yesterday. Columbia and Navy shells have been on the water several days.

With only a week remaining before the annual Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta, all crews now will begin serious workouts with two workouts a day.

About This And That In Many Sports

By BILL BRAUCHER
Stories Misleading?

NEW YORK, June 15 Boxing writers are gentlemen without guile, but the impression is growing in this corner that some of the stories pouring out of the training camps of the elderly champion, Jimmy Braddock, and the Negro challenger, Joe Louis, are to be taken, if at all, with a large bag of salt.

Picking up the daily prints we read that Joe Louis Barrow is a lazy dolt, unconcerned about everything except the matters of getting enough food and having enough sleep, shuffling through workouts with a bored air. He has the world's worst sparring partner. The way Louis goes about his work suggests that perhaps Max Schmeling knocked some of the fight out of him last June. He's a one-track fighter. Fears are expressed that he'll be a sucker for a right hand as long as he lives. He is caught off balance when he misses a left jab. — — —

Some of the scribes go in for the psychological angle, pointing out that Louis saw Braddock win the title from Max Baer and has utter contempt for the Irishman as a fighter. That's bad for Louis, of course, to feel that way about the man he is going to meet. He felt the same way about Schmeling, you know, and remember what happened? Overconfidence, etc.

Must Win Early
Here's another angle about which many words are written. Though Louis is eight years younger than Braddock, he's the kind of a fighter who has to win quickly if he is to win at all, and as the fight goes along, Braddock's chances to win will become better and better. Joe is dumb, easily discouraged, and he'll get all worried up when he fails to bowl Jim over in a heat or two. He won't know what to do, poor fellow!

All right, let's turn away from this dismal picture, look over in the next column and see what's going on in the camp of the champion. Ah! Here is bustle, indeed! His sparmates, Charley Massera and Henry Cooper, are infinitely better pugs than the stiff Louis has been whaling around at Kenosha. Braddock is training thoroughly and diligently. He's 31 years old, but you'd be surprised at the way the guy is skipping around. You remember that ring of sweat around his waist, the accumulation of a couple of years of fat and idle living? Well, he hasn't got that any more (that is, not very much).

Champion Speedy
Analysis of the champion's legs reveal that he can get around on them pretty fast, and his roadwork indicates that he will be able to stay in there for plenty of distance. Barney Ross is in camp with him, and the welter champion has been quoted as being surprised time and again at the defensive of the champ. Braddock has been blocking left hooks (Louis' best weapon) just dandy, and while he may not have a spectacular punch, there is no doubt he is far ahead of Louis in technical skill.

Reports have come to the champion's camp, too, that all is not well at Louis' headquarters. Louis has been "seriously" disturbed by his isolation at Kenosha. Biting away, I guess, or something of the sort. Followers of the champion smiled knowingly and winked when they heard that story.

"Calf Orphanage" Urged
DULUTH, Minn. (UP)—A plan for a "calf orphanage" is being pushed among dairy herdsmen in the Arrowhead region of Minnesota as a means of improving dairy herds. Under the plan calves from the better cows of a herd would be farmed out to the herd orphanage at a nominal cost to be later brought back for use in the herd.

No elephant blood courses through the veins of the average American — he forgets. Already the depression seems like a dream to many, and sane living is designed only for nuns, invalids, old men, and preachers.

JOE LOUIS DETERMINED TO REGAIN OLD-TIME TITLE AS "A KILLER"

Four Drills Remain For Bomber To Reach His Best Form

CHAMPION MEETS THREE Braddock At Peak As Title Bout Approaches

KENOSHA, Wis., June 15 — (UP)—Joe Louis entered the final phase of training today determined to win back his old-time prestige as a killer in the ring.

Although he has failed so far to show the deadly punch that carried him to the top of the heavyweight division in two years, he snapped into form in one fleeting drill over the week-end. His backers were convinced today's boxing workout would find him once more at his best.

The bomber still has four more drills in which to reach his peak. He will box again Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, probably leaving Kenosha the day of the match to weigh in at Chicago.

GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 15 — (UP)—Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock resumed boxing today with a stiff workout scheduled against his three favorite sparring partners.

With only four more days of boxing left before he risks his title against Joe Louis at Chicago June 22, Braddock appeared to be at his peak.

He planned to work out against Charley Massera, Jack McCarthy and Henry Cooper. If the champion decides he is in danger of overwork a full week from the date of the bout, he may curtail his ring work.

Bing Crosby's Racing Plant to Open July 3

DEL MAR, Cal., June 15. — (UP)—A $1,000,000 racing plant almost as picturesque as a studio motion picture set, will be opened here July 3 by Harry L. Crosby, known to screen and radio fans as "Bing."

The new Del Mar turf club, which Crosby heads, undoubtedly borrowed many of its decorative ideas from the screen for, in addition to Crosby, the list of officers and directors reads like a roll-call of cinema greats.

Pat O'Brien, George Raft, Wesley Ruggles, Bogart Rogers, Howard Hawks, Harry Cohn and William Le Baron are only a few of the important cinema personages listed with Crosby's as officers and directors of the track here.

The entire plant is designed in early California Mission style—even to the stables, and jockey quarters which are of adobe construction.

Color Scheme Rich

Even ornate Agua Caliente a scant 50 miles to the south can hardly compete in sheer color with Del Mar's towered-grandstand and club house, with its brilliant colored awnings, its brown walls and green tile roofs.

The setting at beautiful Santa Anita 100 miles north is equalled if not surpassed. The same type of mountains face the clubhouse, across a rolling valley of orchards, while behind the grandstand is the broad Pacific Ocean almost literally within a stone's throw.

Stable space for 500 horses is provided at the track and weeks ago all of that was severed. In fact, it is rumored that Crosby almost missed setting aside a place for his string of runners. He "forgot" to make reservations, they say, until only a few stalls were left and track officials had to remind him to do it then, or he probably would not be able to watch his own horses run on his own track during the 22-day meeting.

Stake Events on Saturdays

Crosby has announced that throughout the season there will be a daily average disbursement of $5,045 in purses and stakes. On week days there will be five races at $500; two at $600 and one at $700. On Wednesday an $800 race will be added while Friday's will boast a $1,000 purse. The Saturday cards will feature five races at $500, one at $600 and two stake events with purses ranging from $1,000 to $5,000.

Other handicap and stake events are San Diego handicap, $1,000 added, July 3; Del Mar Inaugural, $2,500 added, July 3; Independence Day handicap, $2,000 added, July 5; Coronado handicap, $1,000 added, July 5; Motion Picture handicap, $1,000 added, July 9; Rancho Santa Fe handicap, $1,000 added, July 10; La Jolla handicap, $1,500 added, July 10; Long Beach handicap, $1,500 added, July 17; Chula Vista handicap, $1,000 added, July 17; Oceandale Handicap, $1,000 added, July 24; Laguna Beach handicap, $1,500 added, July 24; Carlsbad handicap, $1,000 added, July 31, and the Del Mar handicap, $5,000 added July 31.

benefit of the tubercular hospital building fund.

A crowd of 6,000, including Gov. Homer Holt, saw the games.

Although out 6 to 5, Cincinnati players had two doubles and a triple to their credit.

Pitcher Lloyd Moore of the Reds held the Athletics well in check until the eighth when he was relieved by Lee Grissom. The Athletics made four errors.

The Phils made all their runs against Washington in two innings, getting 5 in the first and four in the eighth.

Circuit Blow By Merle Davis
Provides Big Clout
Of Game

The Battery company of the 136th artillery, O.N.G., won a 6-4 softball game Monday evening from the Coca Colas. Four runs in the third and two more in the sixth innings gave the army boys the edge.

The game was played on a slippery electric company field, W. Mound street. It is possible the field will not be in condition for tonight's fray between the Athletic club and Kingston. Wednesday, the Container Corporation and Cooper Oils are booked for competition.

A home run by Merle Davis was the feature of the big third inning rally. The blow followed a hit, error and base on balls.

Doc Ferguson pitched for the winners and Bob Jones for the losers.

CUBS, WHITE SOX HAVE CHANCE TO LEAD TWO LOOPS

NEW YORK, June 15 — (UP)—The Chicago Cubs and White Sox can take undisputed lead of the major leagues today and if they do it will be the first time in 21 years both have been on the top at the same time.

In addition to winning their own games both of the New York clubs will have to lose in order for the Windy City teams to accomplish this.

Today marks the turn around in intersectional competition, western teams of the National league entertaining the easterners, and American clubs of the west invading the ballfields of their eastern cousins. The Cubs will have to top the Boston Bees while the Giants are losing to Pittsburgh to take the National league lead, and the White Sox will have to beat the Boston Red Sox while the New York Yankees are losing to Cleveland if they pretend to American league leadership.

Rise of both clubs to within a half game of the lead has been the result of long winning streaks. The White Sox added up the longest string of the year, running off 10 victories in a row, and winning 13 of their last 15. The Cubs had an unbroken string of eight, and have triumphed in 14 of their last 17 starts.

CREWS DRILLING FOR REGATTA OF SEVEN SCHOOLS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 15 — (UP)—The rowing fleet from seven colleges — two far western, one midwestern and four eastern — was complete today with arrival of crews from University of Washington and Cornell.

They followed the boats of California, Wisconsin and Syracuse which arrived yesterday. Columbia and Navy shells have been on the water several days.

With only a week remaining before the annual Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta, all crews now will begin serious workouts with two workouts a day.

About This And That In Many Sports

By BILL BRAUCHER

Stories Misleading?

NEW YORK, June 15—Boxing writers are gentlemen without guile, but the impression is growing in this corner that some of the stories pouring out of the training camps of the elderly champion, Jimmy Braddock, and the Negro challenger, Joe Louis, are to be taken, if at all, with a large bag of salt.

Picking up the daily prints we read that Joe Louis Barrow is a lazy dolt, unconcerned about everything except the matters of getting enough food and having enough sleep, shuffling through workouts with a bored air. He has the world's worst sparring partner. The way Louis goes about his work suggests that perhaps Max Schmeling knocked some of the fight out of him last June. He's a one-track fighter. Fears are expressed that he'll be a sucker for a right hand as long as he lives. He is caught off balance when he misses a left jab.

Some of the scribes go in for the psychological angle, pointing out that Louis saw Braddock win the title from Max Baer and has utter contempt for the Irishman as a fighter. That's bad for Louis, of course, to feel that way about the man he is going to meet. He felt the same way about Schmeling, you know, and remember what happened? Overconfidence, etc.

Must Win Early

Here's another angle about which many words are written. Though Louis is eight years younger than Braddock, he's the kind of a fighter who has to win quickly if he is to win at all, and as the fight goes along, Braddock's chances to win will become better and better. Joe is dumb, easily discouraged, and he'll get all worried up when he fails to bowl Jim over in a heat or two. He won't know what to do, poor fellow!

All right, let's turn away from this dismal picture, look over in the next column and see what's going on in the camp of the champion. Ah! Here is bustle, indeed! His sparmates, Charley Massera and Henry Cooper, are infinitely better pugs than the stiff Louis has been whaling around at Kenosha. Braddock is training thoroughly and diligently. He's 31 years old, but you'd be surprised at the way the guy is skipping around. You remember that ring of sweat around his waist, the accumulation of a couple of years of fat and idle living? Well, he hasn't got that any more (that is, not very much).

Champion Speedy

Analysis of the champion's legs reveal that he can get around on them pretty fast, and his roadwork indicates that he will be able to stay in there for plenty of distance. Barney Ross is in camp with him, and the welter champion has been quoted as being surprised time and again at the defensive of the champ. Braddock has been blocking left hooks (Louis' best weapon) just dandy, and while he may not have a spectacular punch, there is no doubt he is far ahead of Louis in technical skill.

Reports have come to the champion's camp, too, that all is not well at Louis' headquarters. Louis has been "seriously" disturbed by his isolation at Kenosha. Pining away, I guess, or something of the sort. Followers of the champion smiled knowingly and winked when they heard that story.

"Calf Orphanage" Urged

DULUTH, Minn. (UP)—A plan for a "calf orphanage" is being pushed among dairy herdsmen in the Arrowhead region of Minnesota as a means of improving dairy herds. Under the plan calves from the better cows of a herd would be farmed out to the herd orphanage at a nominal cost to be later brought back for use in the herd.

No elephant blood courses through the veins of the average American — he forgets. Already the depression seems like a dream to many, and sane living is designed only for nurses, invalids, old men, and preachers.

EXTENDING DEDUCTIONS

OVERCALLING by an opponent when there are very few high cards out should tell the eventual declarer that the bid was based on a longer than ordinary suit. Carrying his deductions one step farther, he should count on shortness of that suit in the other defender's hand, and hence should safeguard himself against the danger of an early ruff by the partner of the overcaller.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)
After an opening bid of 1-Spade by South, West overcalled with 2-Hearts. North put in a bid of 3-Diamonds, East passed, South bid 3-Spades, North 4-Spades and South went to 6-Spades.

West's opening lead was the heart K, which South won with the A. South decided to ruff out one or two losing hearts before drawing trumps. East ruffed the second heart and returned a club, which West ruffed.

As the spade Q drops and the club finesse works, by correct play South should have made 7-Spades. His procedure should have been to draw two rounds of trumps after winning the first trick, then ruff one heart and discard two losing hearts on the Ace and King of diamonds. The club finesse could then be tried and even if it failed, the contract could have been made.

When the dummy was disclosed, it should have been quite apparent to the declarer that West had little in high cards for his overcall and that it was therefore probably made because of extreme length in the suit.

Regulations governing the re-assignment of certified W. P. A. workers on termination of private employment were received Tuesday by the Circleville W. P. A. office from Carl Watson, state administrator.

The regulations state that persons who leave W. P. A. jobs to accept employment in private industry, and who lose employment will be re-employed on W. P. A. provided that:

1. They do not lose their private employment through any fault of their own, nor do they leave it voluntarily.

2. They are eligible within W. P. A. regulations when they return from private employment.

Should Notify Office

"Project workers who accept employment in private industry should notify the project timekeeper or send a postcard to the district W. P. A. office in order that their record may be kept for re-assignment," the regulations state.

"If workers lose their jobs in private employment and desire re-assignment on a W. P. A. job, they should write to the district W. P. A. office, giving complete information concerning their private employment experience, including the name of their employer, their weekly earnings, the reason for leaving private employment, and the reason for desiring re-employment on W. P. A."

Aguirre Concerned

It was reported that all through the night President Jose Antonio De Aguirre, president of the Basque republic, was in communication with the Loyalist government at Valencia.

Though these reports said that Aguirre might offer to surrender Bilbao if a political amnesty were granted, Basque agents here insisted that the city would be defended.

Bilbao was cut off from the sea side today. All British ships had left and British shipping was ordered to avoid the city.

A Spanish torpedo boat arrived at La Pallice with refugees. It was reported that there had been a mutiny aboard on the way from Bilbao.

The British steamship Sea Bank, lying off the coast near La Pallice, held $5,000,000 in securities taken from the vaults of British banks. Basque officials aboard asserted that a Nationalist agent offered them a large sum of money to take the ship outside French waters and permit it to be captured.

Unconfirmed dispatches persistently reported a terrific bombardment of the Santander road. One report was that 2,000 shells had been fired since midnight and that 30 fires had been started in suburbs near the road.

O. head, prepared to strengthen the steel strike by a possible Great Lakes maritime walkout to shut off iron supplies.

BOSTON.—C. M. Chester, chairman of the National Association of manufacturers, called on labor and management to end their quarrels, saying: "Cut out the wrangling and let's get down to business."

Aguirre Concerned

Bilbao was cut off from the sea today. All British ships had left and British shipping was ordered to avoid the city.

A Spanish torpedo boat arrived at La Pallice with refugees. It was reported that there had been a mutiny aboard on the way from Bilbao.

The British steamship Sea Bank, lying off the coast near La Pallice, held $5,000,000 in securities taken from the vaults of British banks.
